

Legacy Giving: Support The COT

Through a Charitable Bequest or Designation

A will or living trust can provide an ongoing legacy when you establish a bequest to benefit The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle. Through a bequest, you can remember loved ones in a very special way, perpetuate your values by designating funds to a specific cause, and help secure the future of The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle's performance, education, and outreach programs.

How to Set Up a Bequest or Charitable Designation:

You designate a particular dollar amount, asset, or a percentage of your estate to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle (a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization) by including a bequest provision in your will or revocable trust. You can do this while creating your will or trust, or you can amend an existing one with a simple document. You can arrange a gift of a specific amount, a percentage, or even all or part of the residuum of your estate. Types of gifts can include cash, securities, or property. The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle can be either a primary or a contingent beneficiary.

Your distribution is fully deductible for federal estate tax purposes and there is no limit on the deduction your estate can claim. In addition, the gift is usually exempt from state inheritance taxes.

If you plan to restrict the use of your bequest (designating it to a specific area or program), please contact The COT's Development Director at abogie@thecot.org while drafting your will or trust to ensure your wishes can be met. The more narrowly you restrict the use of your bequest, the greater the risk that the program you want to benefit today won't be as vital or as relevant when we receive your gift in the future. For this reason, we recommend that bequests be made for general use, meaning that The COT's board will apply the funds wherever the need is greatest.

Just a few sentences in your will is all that is needed to set up a bequest. The following sample language and brief descriptions are not intended as legal or financial advice. An attorney or other professional advisor should always be consulted when making or revising your will.

Residual Bequest: You may leave the residue of your estate, or a percentage thereof, after you have provided for family members and other beneficiaries.

Sample language: "I give and bequeath to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle, a North Carolina nonprofit corporation, Tax ID number 56-1610461, with offices at 324 Blackwell St Suite 520 Durham, NC 27701 and mailing address PO Box 2914 Durham, NC 27715, the residue of my estate (or __% of the residue of my estate), to be used for the general purposes of the organization (or to be used for a specific purpose, listed here).

Percentage Bequest: You may leave a percentage of the total value of your estate.

Sample Language: "I give and bequeath to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle, a North Carolina nonprofit corporation, Tax ID number 56-1610461, with offices at 324 Blackwell St Suite 520 Durham, NC 27701 and mailing address PO Box 2914 Durham, NC 27715, (name a specific percentage) of the total value of my estate to be used for the general purposes of the organization (or to be used for a specific purpose, listed here)."

General or Specific Bequest: You can give a specific dollar amount, piece of property, or security.

Sample Language: "I give and bequeath to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle, a North Carolina nonprofit corporation, Tax ID number 56-1610461, with offices at 324 Blackwell St Suite 520 Durham, NC 27701 and mailing address PO Box 2914 Durham, NC 27715, (the sum of $__ (or a specific item of property, such as real estate, stocks or bonds, automobile, etc.) to be used for the general purposes of the organization (or to be used for a specific purpose, listed here)."

Other Forms of Legacy Giving:

Charitable Trusts: Trusts which benefit both family members and The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle can be set up with your estate attorney. Examples are a Charitable Lead Trust (CLT) or Charitable Remainder Trust (CRT). A CLT is primarily a vehicle for transferring wealth from one generation to another at deeply reduced estate or gift taxes. A CRT is a trust that will pay donor(s) or their designated beneficiaries an income stream for their lifetimes, with the remainder then passing to charity upon the death of the final beneficiary. Please consult your attorney or financial planner to learn which option is best for you.

Retirement Accounts: Name The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle as a beneficiary of your IRA or other qualified retirement plan or bank account. For many, retirement funds can be the most highly taxed assets they own, as the funds can be subject to both estate and income taxes if left to an individual person. The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle is tax-exempt, so your bequest of a retirement fund can pass to the organization tax-free. You can name The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle as a beneficiary of a retirement account using a beneficiary designation form, often found on your retirement account's website. You can also name The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle on a bank or brokerage account through a "Pay on Death" or "Transfer on Death" option. Accounts that pass to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle in this manner will not be included in probate.

Life Insurance: You can name The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle as the charitable beneficiary of a life insurance policy while retaining ownership and control of the policy and having access to its cash value. Similar to retirement accounts, life insurance benefits bequeathed to The Chamber Orchestra of the Triangle do not go through the probate process.
